Using a power supply that converts a telecom 48V-dc input to a 3.3V output with a maximum load current of 3.5A as an example, each upgrade to the diode-rectified flyback improves the efficiency on a real-world design.