Spectrum of phase-modulated encoding source shows that, for relatively low-level angles of modulation, only the first elements of the sidebands are visible above the noise floor. (The vertical scaling is 10 dB per major division shown.)