The simulated eye diagram (a) of this 3.125-Gbps data stream traveling 40 cm from the chip through the backplane is virtually identical to the measured eye diagram (b).